Profits In Boyle Law Sale

Siskind Says He Paid $150,000 For Cases That Net $432,250 in Fees

By G. Milton Kelly
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—(P)—Max Siskind, Washington lawyer, told Senate investigators today he bought 23 law accounts from William M. Boyle, Jr., the Democratic National chairman, in 1949 for $150,000, and estimated he might receive $432,250 in fees from them.

Siskind said he would gladly give the names of the clients in private, but did not want them splashed in the headlines.

After much sparring, Committee Counsel Francis D. Flanagan finally read into the record, without naming the clients, a list of the 23 cases.

This included the nature of each case and "the value," as estimated by Siskind—that is how much it might bring to the lawyer handling it.

Many involve Federal Groups
Most of the cases involved government agencies. Several concerned the purchase of war surplus goods from the government.

The largest case—Siskind put its value at $75,000 to the law firm handling it—involved a $400,000 reorganization.

The railroad was not identified, but Flanagan said Siskind had told him he received a $650 a month retainer in this case, which is in the U. S. District court and has been before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Siskind said he and Boyle made no written agreement about the $150,000 which he was to pay Boyle for the cases.

"Would you advise a client to operate in any such fashion?" Senator McClellan (D-Ark) asked.

Siskind grinned, shook his head and said he wouldn't. Then he added that he and Boyle had done business on this informal basis for several years.

No Cases From Party
Siskind said there was "not one case" that Boyle or the Democratic national committee had referred to him since Boyle sold the law practice.

In an often stormy session, Siskind insisted to a Senate investigations subcommittee that the account of American Lithofold Corp. was not among those he purchased from Boyle. And he declared that Boyle gets no part of a $500-a-month retainer fee he now receives from Lithofold.

The senators are looking into a $565,000 government loan to (Please turn to Page 6, Column 5)

Declares Charge Is 'Ridiculous'

STEELEVILLE, Mo., Sept. 26—(P)—A Butler county state representative is free on $2,000 bond on a charge of embezzlement involving $45,000 in notes and deeds of trust and $2,000 cash.

Robert I. Cope of Poplar Bluff came to Steelville yesterday and posted the bond. He called the charge "so ridiculous it's funny."

A Crawford county grand jury returned the indictment last week after an assistant Missouri attorney general, W. Brady Duncan, acting as special prosecutor, presented the case.

Cope and Mrs. Robert H. Purvis of Chicago were accused of embezzling the deeds of trust and cash from the estate of Mrs. Purvis' late husband, a Steelville real estate man.

Garbage Collection To Be Once a Week

Garbage collections in Sedalia will be once-a-week starting Monday, October 1, Willis Jabas, sanitary officer, announced this morning. Collections have been twice a week over the city during the summer months.

The one collection a week will continue through the winter up until about April 1.

Mr. Jabas stated the procedure is the same as has been followed each year since the inauguration of free garbage collection.

Designate Week To Employ Handicapped

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 26—(P)—October 7 to 13 will be National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week in Missouri under a proclamation issued today by Gov. Forrest Smith.

The governor said he was gratified to note a big increase in the number of handicapped persons being hired by Missouri employers. In 1949 the number was 2,527, in 1950 it was 3,451. In the first eight months of this year the total reached 3,208.

Carpenter Burns to Death

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 26—(P)—George Bryson, 60, a carpenter, burned to death in a fire that destroyed his two-room house late last night. Firemen found the charred body lying across bed-springs. Police said they believed the death accidental.

Believes Offer Was Made by La Tourette

Heated Discord Over $10,000 Report To Lobby Inquirers

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 26—(P)—Testimony before the house lobby investigating committee will be turned over the Attorney General J. E. Taylor for possible perjury action against either Leif J. Sverdrup or Brainerd W. LaTourette.

Rep. Delton L. Houtchens (D) of Henry county said his committee was convinced one or the other lied in testimony before the committee.

Should Taylor find enough evidence for further action it probably would be taken in Cole county circuit court. Houtchens said today after the committee heard both witnesses.

Sverdrup, a St. Louis construction engineer, insisted it was LaTourette who made a $10,000 offer to him last November for a report favorable to truckers.

LaTourette, a St. Louis attorney, as emphatically denied he had any part in the reported offer.

The committee decided there would be no further hearings unless new evidence of rumored lobbyist activity is uncovered, Houtchens said.

Sverdrup repeated his earlier testimony before the house lobby investigating committee that he was certain it was LaTourette who made the offer. It was for a report designed to show that big trucks don't harm Missouri highways any more than passenger cars.

Sverdrup said he rejected the proposal.

"I thought then it was his (LaTourette's) voice and I do so now," he said.

LaTourette denied having had any telephone conversation with Sverdrup in November, 1950.

Both agreed that one or the other was lying. Both agreed to take any lie detector test to show which was telling the truth.

LaTourette said he thought in time his own name would be cleared in the matter and mentioned to the committee a "forum where you gentlemen (of the committee) will not decide the issues." He did not expand that answer.

No Contempt Authority
Rep. Delton L. Houtchens (D) of Henry county, committee chairman, reminded LaTourette that the committee probably would have to turn the evidence over to the attorney general of Missouri.

He said the committee realized it did not have the authority to cite anyone for contempt or accuse any one of perjury. He said that would have to be left to the courts.

Score Killed, Ten Seriously Injured

VIENNA, Sept. 26—(P)—The Vienna-Rome express crashed into a stationary freight early today, killing 20 persons and injuring 10 seriously. About 30 others were slightly injured.

The dead were believed to be members of an Italian railwayman's organization who had been vacationing in Vienna.

The disaster occurred in a mid-night fog at the small railway station of Langenwang, 55 miles southeast of Vienna.

Gift of Four Acres For Parking Lot at Center

The most valuable gift to the Jaynes Foundation for the recreational center has been made by two civic minded young Sedalia business men, Ben and Dan Robinson. It is the four acre parking lot just north of the proposed stadium.

This tract of land was acquired by the Robinson brothers several years ago for the purpose of an addition of new homes but when the early plans for the recreational center were being formulated the Robinsons saw the need for the land to the park. They offered to give the land providing the plans for the stadium were carried through.

It is impossible to accurately value this gift but divided into lots as the Robinson brothers originally planned it would be worth

King George VI Still Gaining

LONDON, Sept. 26—(P)—King George's doctors reported today the monarch spent a less restful night but still keeps on gaining strength after Sunday's dangerous lunch operation.

They also said his general condition is good.

The medical bulletin was the seventh since the operation. It said:

"The king has had a less restful night but his majesty's general condition this morning is good and progress is maintained."

BPW Press for Amendment

Special Attention To 'Equal Rights' Day Sept. 27

The Sedalia Business and Professional Women's club in observing National Business Women's Week, will pay special attention to "Equal Rights Amendment Day," September 27th. The club members are urged to participate in this project by writing to their congressmen and senators in support of this amendment, says Mrs. J. F. Schumacher, public affairs chairman of the local club.

This is a long-term project which has been underway for the past 20 years, and in 1948 elections, both political parties pledged their support for this amendment, but the proposed bill was overlooked by the Congress in its subsequent sessions. The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs are urgently requesting Congress to bring this equal rights amendment to the floor this session and present it for final action.

Saturday evening a group of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's club will attend one of the Business Women's Week activities of the Kansas City B.P.W. organization and hear Judge Sarah T. Hughes, national president speak in the B. P. & W. club rooms. Further activities for the public affairs committee, of which Mrs. Schumacher is chairman, will extend over into October, when the regular dinner meeting program will feature Mrs. Gladys Berger Stewart, attorney at law of Springfield as the speaker of the occasion, and to which the presidents of all the other civic clubs in Sedalia will be invited.

In a Senate speech, Kem said this was a drastic course but that drastic action was necessary to deal with a government "suffering from bloat."

Higher Taxes Rejected on Corporations

Defeat in Senate By 54-33 on All Income of 1951

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—(P)—Senator Hennings (D-Mo) voted for and Senator Kem (R-Mo) voted against a proposed tax bill amendment to make corporation tax increases retroactive to Jan. 1 instead of April 1.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—(P)—The Senate today voted down, 54 to 33, a proposal to make corporations pay higher taxes on all of their 1951 income.

The vote sustained the finance committee in fixing April 1 as the effective date for higher corporation income levies in the Senate's $5,506,000,000 tax bill.

Senator Lehman (D-Lib-NY) had sought to make the increase retroactive to last Jan. 1 as in the House measure.

Lehman estimated the April 1 date would save corporations $500,000,000 in the first year's operations under the new tax measure.

This is no time for mollycoddling—either ourselves as individuals, our people or our corporations," Lehman declared.

The House, in passing its $7,200,000,000 tax bill, set Jan. 1 for the start of the five percentage points increase in the corporation levy. The Senate group went along with that boost but shifted the effective date.

The Senate vote was a defeat for a bloc of 15 senators trying to raise the tax boost to the $10,000,000,000 level sought by President Truman.

The question of the effective date now will have to be settled in a Senate-House conference.

The Senate later approved, with George's consent, an amendment by Senator Flanders (R-Vt) designed to soften somewhat the impact of the new tax voted on mutual savings banks.

Ready to Lift Restrictions Upon Italy

Way Be Found For Country to Uphold UN Principles

By John A. Scall
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—(P)—The United States, Britain and France today declared their readiness to give Italy a free hand to rearm as an equal partner in the western alliance against Communism.

An extraordinary three-power declaration and an accompanying Italian-American communiqué said Italy's oft-repeated request for changes in its 1947 peace treaty would get "favorable consideration."

The three powers said they are willing to lift "permanent restrictions and discriminations now in existence which are wholly overtaken by present circumstances."

They called on other nations which signed the treaty to act in concert with the big three. They also reaffirmed their determination "to make every effort to secure" Italy's membership in the United Nations.

Russia has blocked Italy's admission to the U. N. and is expected to oppose bitterly any efforts to change the treaty.

Officials familiar with drafting the declaration said the United States, at least, was prepared to wipe out a total of 33 articles in the Italian pact, and, in addition, rewrite the tone of the preamble which mentions Italy's guilt.

This would pave the way for Italy to build up its armed forces beyond the 300,000 man limit imposed by the treaty. It also would permit Italy once again to build and acquire battleships, aircraft carriers, bombers and expand its air force beyond the 400-plane maximum.

The declaration came as a climax to Italian Premier De Gasperi's three-day talks with President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson.

The accompanying communiqué said the prime minister and Acheson agreed also that a solution to the question of returning Trieste to Italy would "greatly strengthen unity of Western Europe."

No mention was made, however, as to whether a Yugoslav-Italian settlement of this explosive problem was necessary before the Italian treaty could be changed.

The Italian-American announcement also reported the signing of an agreement under which:

1. De Gasperi has pledged Italy's "determination to lend cooperation fully" to present Western plans for bringing West Germany into the United Nations.

Argue Tangle Of M. D.'s and D.O.'s in Court

Privilege of Use of Drugs and Surgery Is Issue in Case

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 26—(P)—Medical doctors and osteopaths tangled in a head-on legal collision before the Missouri supreme court today.

It was the first time in Missouri this question ever had been squarely presented to the supreme court: Can osteopaths practice medicine, using drugs and surgery, the same as medical doctors? And especially can they practice in the Audrain county hospitals?

The court took the question under advisement after hearing oral arguments by lawyers for the M. D.'s and D. O.'s.

The case started when trustees of the Audrain county hospital at Mexico decided to let the courts rule whether they have the right to bar osteopaths from practicing there.

Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair ruled last year that osteopaths can't legally do that. He held the osteopaths have the same rights as medical doctors to practice in tax supported hospitals.

Lawrence L. Bradley of Kennett, representing the state medical association, told the supreme court "our position is that osteopathy is only manipulation with the hands."

He said testimony of osteopaths that the Kirksville College of Osteopathy always has taught use of drugs and surgery was "wholly unbelievable."

Statement Challenged
Attorneys for the osteopaths, Walter Raymond and Carl E. Engas of Kansas City, challenged his statement. They said osteopaths have used drugs and surgery ever since Dr. A. T. Still founded the Kirksville school in 1894.

The legislature, the courts and enforcement officers all have recognized osteopathy as a school of medicine for many years, they said. They urged the court to affirm Circuit Judge Blair's findings to that effect.

John H. Bradley of Kennett, former supreme court commissioner, said neither of Lawrence Bradley's arguments would qualify as a grade "A" medical school.

But Raymond said early catalogs of the Kirksville college show courses in use of drugs and surgery. He said many rural areas of Missouri would be without medical service if osteopaths could not practice medicine.

Lawrence Bradley called the court's attention to the fact that in a similar case, the Kansas court held osteopathy was confined to manipulative therapy. He said it was clear the legislature did not intend to let osteopaths practice medicine and surgery.

Attorneys for the osteopaths noted that only twice have prosecutors tried to stop Missouri osteopaths from practicing medicine. They said both cases were dismissed.

Donate to School Lunch Room

The Hughesville Women's Extension club members are donating tea towels, dish cloths and pot holders to the Hughesville high cafeteria and will make a cash donation to the school to purchase other necessary equipment. The school lost all such supplies when the cafeteria, garage and shop building burned just before school closed last spring.

Members of their club, meeting with Mrs. Dwight Lowery on Wednesday, made the decision to have donations for the lunch room and requested members to leave their articles at the locker within the next two weeks. It was explained all the materials are badly needed.

A committee composed of three members was appointed for each month of the calendar year by Mrs. Art Martin, president. They are to have plans formulated for the month designated to them for achievement day, Oct. 31. These plans will be presented at the

GI's Should Have Funds of Own

Veterans who reentered training this fall under the G. I. Bill should make certain that they have funds of their own to tide them over until November 15, since G. I. subsistence checks may be late in coming, the local Veterans Administration office announced today. The VA is doing everything possible to keep delays to a minimum, and has even gone to the extent of suspending for the time being, those administrative procedures not directly related to the given job of getting veterans into training but despite all efforts, some delays are bound to occur this year. It was emphasized that none of the suspending operations will in any way deprive veterans of their rights to G. I. Bill training.

Students can help matters, by refraining from writing to the Veterans Administration about delays since replies to letters take time that otherwise could be spent in processing subsistence checks.

Three factors, all coming at the same time, have contributed to the delays in getting subsistence allowance checks to students, the VA explained. First, it has been necessary to reduce the numbers of Veterans Administration personnel who process the papers of G. I. students. Second, the large number of veterans entering training in September has caused an unusual amount of processing. And third, the Veterans Administration still is working through the last-minute load of applications for training that came in just ahead of the cut-off date for starting training, this past July 25.

Ambulance Service Ph 8 Adv. will be a special session and all members are urged to attend.

Pfc. Ross Brown, who has just been completed 36 weeks of school in electronics at Keiser Air Force Base, Miss., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brown, 510 South Quincy, after which he will report to McChard Air Force Base, Tacoma, Wash.

Salem P. T. A. Has Program

An interesting program was presented by the students as the Salem Parent-Teachers association met at the school on Friday night to open the new year.

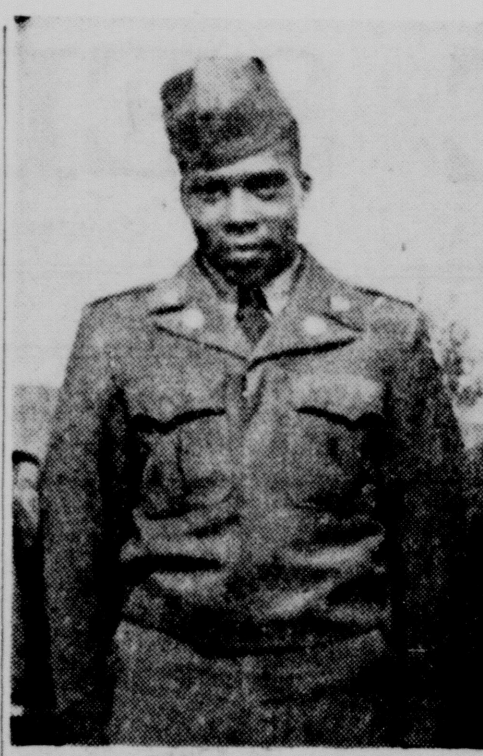

The teacher, Miss Alene Hall, presented her pupils in the following program after the program chairman, Mrs. E. L. Birdsong, had introduced her:

Piano solos by Janice Grimes, Judy Grimes, Marilyn Green, Janice White and Dickie Shoemaker; piano duet by Dickie Shoemaker and Janice White; and vocal solos by Mary Lou Holder, accompanied by Susie Hyatt, Miss Schanz, music instructor at Smithton, accompanied by Marilyn Green and Chester O'Bannon, accompanied by Vaigene Hayworth.

Mrs. E. P. Schupp had charge of the business meeting when it was decided a pie supper would be held Sept. 28. The president appointed these committees for next month: program, Mrs. I. J. Rhoades and Mrs. Lester Holder; social, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harrington and Mrs. Marlin.

The meeting closed with refreshments being served. The next session will be Oct. 12.

Three-Year Program For Advancement of Boy Scouts

The Boy Scouts of America will launch a three-year program known as "Forward on Liberty's Team" to help make America a nation of character, spiritually strong and worthy of the emulation of the world, it was announced by L. E. Moody, executive of the Lake of the Ozarks council of the organization.

Mr. Moody returned from the ninth national training conference of 2,200 Boy Scout executives, full-time professional leaders of the organization, who met for one week at the Michigan State college, East Lansing, Mich. Coming from every state and United States possession, they studied successful organization methods and the effective means of recruiting and using manpower, resources, staff, programs, outdoor and indoor activities.

With Mr. Moody representing the Lake of the Ozarks council were Kent Kane, Eldon, field executive, and James Langridge, Sedalia, field executive.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief Scout executive, chairman of the conference, said:

"The fundamental requirements for a democracy of the kind of which I speak is character in the individual citizen. There is nothing wrong with America that character could not change. That change can be effected in one generation with the proper training of youth."

Help Get Out Vote
As part of the new three-year program the organization will help "get out the vote" in the presidential elections in 1952.

Non-partisan, without reference to any candidate or party," said Dr. Schuck, "the Boy Scouts of America will urge the people of America to exercise their franchise and go to the polls. It is planned to place on every doorknob in America—thirty million homes—a cardboard hanger in the form of a Liberty Bell, with the slogan of our campaign, "Forward on Liberty's Team," and the injunction for every citizen to vote."

Dr. Eduard C. Lindeman, veteran professor of social philosophy, said "that America would need a dictatorship within six months if the 30 to 40 million Americans who serve as volunteer leaders in the nation's health, welfare and recreation agencies quit." Democracy would collapse, he said, "if they gave up the work they took on freely."

He expects the greatest expansion of the Boy Scouts to come in the next decade. He said, "There are 53,932,000 young people under 21 years of age in America and there will be eight million more school children 10 years from now."

John M. Schiff of New York, president of the Boy Scouts, said that the leadership qualities and sense of responsibility scouting seeks to instill in boys "can only be achieved by the influence of the man on the boy. The volunteer who works with the boy must be an individual of high character, of imagination, and with faith and confidence in what he is teaching."

"We are fortunate in our 750,000 volunteer leaders," Mr. Schiff said. "I can see no better way of building these qualifications of character than through the Boy Scout organization. We must train our youth intelligently if we are to assume world responsibilities."

Help in Religion
Four religious leaders told how the Boy Scout program is helping the churches and synagogues of America in working with their youth.

Most Reverend Richard Oliver Gerow, D.D., bishop of Natchez, chairman of the Catholic committee on Scouting, himself a former scoutmaster, said, "In scouting we are training boys in the finest form of citizenship."

Dr. Norman Salit of New York, vice president of the Synagogue Council of America, said that Scouting trains boys in understanding and gives them "self-reliance and self-confidence." He sees the organization as a social movement with four strong points. Elder Ezra Taft Benson of Salt Lake City, Utah, a member of the Council of Twelve, Church of Christ of Latter Day Saints, said that scouting follows the ideals of his church and has as its aims "the building of character and the building of souls."

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry of New York, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, spoke in behalf of Protestant churches. Stating that his sons were Scouts he added, "You have done my sons good. We must treble our efforts if we are to keep peace within our day."

Congressman Walter H. Judd of Minnesota said "quite another different world is coming into being and we are not equipped to deal with it. We must have a wider knowledge and deeper understanding of what is happening in the world."

Amory Houghton, chairman of the board of Corning Glass Works, Corning, N. Y., president of the Boy Scouts from 1946 to May, 1951, said that "the business man of today looks for character, initiative, loyalty and leadership in his personnel." He then asked where can they be found better than in those who were trained as Boy Scouts.

Richard Hrdlicka, a student at Friends university, Wichita, Kas., a Czechoslovakia Boy Scout who came to America through the aid of two Wichita Boy Scouts he met at the World Scout Jamboree in France in 1946, spoke on "What It Means to Lose One's Freedom."

Medical School Issue Ducked

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 26—(P)—The House medical school committee agreed Tuesday that a four-year medical course could be started in Missouri for $9,000,000.

But the committee left the question of the school's location hanging without a decision.

Instead it decided the legislature didn't have the authority to say where the school should be.

"That authority is vested by the constitution in the board of curators of the University of Missouri," the report said.

Committee's Duty Fulfilled
"The jurisdiction and duty of the legislature is to make the necessary funds available. And this committee has confidence in the ability of the board of curators to establish a school in such manner as to best serve the need of production of grade A doctors and to the best interest of the people of the State of Missouri."

The nine-member board is split over whether the school should be in Kansas City or Columbia.

A majority favors Columbia, site of the main university campus. A minority of the board has held out for Kansas City, a metropolitan area in western Missouri where, they said, a larger stock of clinical material would be available.

Wide Hearings Held
The special House committee held hearings in Kansas City, Columbia and Jefferson City, trying to solve the question that has caused legislative strife regularly the past six years.

Generally the idea that the state should have a four-year medical school has won the approval of both sides. It was only on the question of location that the bitter struggle developed.

Health Yardsticks For Club Complete

Rent Control at Rolla Difficult

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26—(P)—The Globe-Democrat quoted Earl Jackson, area rent control director for Rolla, Mo., area as saying Tuesday his office has been unable to cope with rent gouging around Ft. Leonard Wood.

A Senate subcommittee recently named Fort Wood, along with several other military establishments in the U. S., as deplorable areas for housing for servicemen and their dependants.

Jackson told the St. Louis newspaper there has been no change in the situation since the subcommittee made its report in July.

Jackson said: There simply isn't enough adequate housing available in the area for the military personnel living away from the Fort. The personnel of the Fort now totals about 30,000, of which about 2,200 live off the post.

The area controlled by Jackson's office includes Pulaski, Laclede and Phelps counties.

Jackson told the newspaper he has two inspectors and a girl receptionist in his staff—not enough to police the buildings still under rent control.

AFL Re-Elects William Green

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26—(P)—William Green, 78-year-old President of the American Federation of Labor, was re-elected unanimously Tuesday to his 28th term at the closing session of the annual convention.

Green, of Coshocton, Ohio, was nominated by Phil Hannah, secretary of the Ohio State Federation. He called Green "the epitome of everything good and holy in the American Federation of Labor," and "a fine product of a typical American labor movement."

There were no other nominations and Secretary-Treasurer George Meany cast the unanimous ballot for Green.

The fourteen-member executive council and all AFL vice presidents, were likewise returned to office unanimously.

The convention, which opened Sept. 10, ended tonight. Green took office 27 years ago upon the death of Samuel Gompers. With great feeling, he said today "With all I have and the best I have, I thank you for this great honor."

Sedalia police said she did not know who the person was that shot the windows.

KC Judges To Double City's Speeding Fine

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 26—(P)—Municipal court judges announced here that they would double the minimum fine for speeding in an effort to halt the city's soaring traffic accident and fatality rate.

Fines and sentences for careless driving, operating a vehicle while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident also will be increased but not necessarily doubled. The minimum fine for speeding, formerly $5, now will be $10.

The traffic toll in deaths and injuries has more than doubled here in the last two years. So far this

APME For a Break With the Czechs If Oatis Not Freed

By Spencer Davis

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A special investigating committee of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association today urged a full break in diplomatic relations with Communist Czechoslovakia if all other means fail to win release of imprisoned AP correspondent William N. Oatis.

The committee's report was prepared for 250 top-flight American editors meeting in their four-day annual appraisal of domestic and foreign news problems.

APME president L. R. Blanchard, managing editor of the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle, pointed up the importance of the Oatis case, because of its bearing on the free gathering of news, to editors throughout the nation. He was scheduled to open the first session at 9:30 a.m. (11:30 a.m. EST).

Blanchard told interviewers "I think we should get tough with the Czechs."

The Oatis committee report went farther.

Signed by J. R. Wiggins, Washington Post; George Cornish of the New York Herald Tribune who was unable to attend, and John Stempel of the University of Indiana Daily Student, it said:

"If those who retain William Oatis in prison continue in their disregard of every plea of humanitarianism, and their indifference to every demand of justice and their defiance of every demand for the protection of the citizen of a friendly power, the most serious measures must be contemplated.

"If all else fails, we must ask ourselves and our government if it is wise to maintain international relations with a power that is unable to fulfill its obligations."

The report pointed out that Oatis, the AP correspondent at Prague, has been imprisoned by Czechoslovakia since July 10 "on the outrageous charge that the routine reporting of events in that Iron Curtain country constituted espionage."

It added that not since the days of the Barbary pirates "have civilized nations had to cope with crimes of abduction and false imprisonment against an individual as irresponsible and lawless as this offense."

To Wed Tone Barbara Says

Actress Will Not Say When or Where As to the Marriage

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Blond Barbara Payton, central figure in Hollywood's latest brawl, paused en route to her home town by plane today to repeat that "I'm definitely going to marry Franchot Tone."

Tone was on the receiving end of punches thrown by actor Tom Neal in a fight in Barbara's yard Sept. 14. He has recovered sufficiently to see her off at the Los Angeles airport early today.

Miss Payton, dressed in a pink coat and grey suit, changed plans at Chicago en route to Duluth, Minn. From Duluth she will go to her home town of Cloquet, near Duluth, for a short rest.

Although she said she was definite about marrying actor Tone, she wouldn't say where or when. Asked if it might be at Cloquet, she said she couldn't say.

She was asked by newsmen whether there was a possibility that Neal, Tone's rival for her affections, might follow her to Cloquet.

She at first said she'd rather not discuss it and then added: "No, there's no possibility whatever."

She indicated she wanted to get away from Hollywood, where affairs have become somewhat tangled.

"I want to be among my relatives," she said.

"Cloquet may be small (population between 7,000 and 8,000) but it will look very good to me," she said.

She said she will be there a week or 10 days and will visit two aunts, Misses Murel and Faye Reck.

Her parents now live at Odessa, Tex., but she was born at Cloquet.

Franchot saw her off in Los Angeles a few hours earlier.

many into North Atlantic defense forces.

2. The United States has given "assurance" to help in giving priorities to Italy's requests for equipment, needed to boost electric power and steel output.

3. The American government has promised that it will "contribute as in the past within the limits of funds appropriated to this end by congress" continued military and economic aid to the Italian government.

4. The United States will cooperate with other governments in trying to devise "practical plans" for an international organization to solve Italy's surplus population problems.

5. Acheson and De Gasperi gave "particular attention" to the possibility of placing American capital in Italian plants, especially those now idle, for military production.

The three-power declaration said Italy had "loyally cooperated with the Allies during the latter part of the war as a co-belligerent."

"May Be Found"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—President Truman said today that if Russia continues to block Italy's membership in the United Nations, "other ways must be found" to enable Italy to play "a full and equal part" in upholding U. N. principles.

The president also reaffirmed American intentions to try to restore Italy's rights as a free nation by seeking to ease the terms of the Italian peace treaty.

He spoke at the dedication of four equestrian statues, given to the United States by the people of Italy, at a ceremony at the Arlington Memorial bridge. The bronze gold-gilded figures were formally presented by Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi.

Even as Mr. Truman spoke, the United States, Britain and France were moving to relax restrictions imposed on Italy by the peace treaty. They proposed to do it by renouncing some clauses, especially a provision limiting the size of Italian armed forces.

Mr. Truman said the treaty "does not give Italy the position of equality among the free nations to which it is now entitled."

Mr. Truman said that only by the combined effort of the free nations, including Italy, "can we counter the menace of Soviet aggression."

Profits In Boyle Law Suit

American Lithofold, a St. Louis printing firm, and the question of whether Boyle exerted political influence to get the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make the loan.

The loan was made in 1949 when Boyle was the company's lawyer here. He has said he had nothing to do with it. Boyle became Democratic chairman that same year and announced he was giving up his law practice.

Boyle On Stand Tomorrow

Boyle is to take the witness chair tomorrow.

Siskind testified that he had no part in getting the government loan for Lithofold. He said that he never solicited government business for the company.

When Boyle retired from law practice, Siskind related, he purchased some of Boyle's law practice for an agreed price of $150,000.

"Since May, 1949, I have paid Mr. Boyle approximately $90,999 which represents term payments on the indebtedness of $150,000," he continued. "About $50,000 is still due on this account."

He said he succeeded Boyle as legal counsel to American Lithofold but insisted the Lithofold account was not one of those he purchased.

Siskind said he and Boyle were never law partners as popularly believed but were "associated" in law practice.

Several senators demanded that Siskind produce a list of the clients he took over from Boyle.

Want List of Clients

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) said he wanted the investigation to show "whether there ever was a sale" of the clients by Boyle to Siskind, "or whether this was a continuing account" in which the two lawyers divided fees.

Chairman Hoey (D-N.C.) first ordered Siskind to produce the list of clients. Then Hoey said he would consider a "blind" listing of the clients and the nature of Siskind's work for them, in which they are listed only by number.

McCarthy and Senator Nixon (R-Calif.) served notice they would press for the names, too.

Siskind protested that the request was improper.

"Please, please, senators," he said, arguing that a public listing of the clients would subject them "to being hounded."

"In view of the public interest and the strong insinuations of wrong-doing, aren't you willing to submit them?" Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) asked.

"Insinuations— from whom?" Siskind shouted.

McClellan told him that "when clients are sold" in a case of this nature, and the sale "involved dealings with the government, the people are entitled to know."

Two Actions For Divorce Are Filed

Two divorce suits have been filed in circuit court. General indignities were alleged in both suits.

Caroline Talida Elliott against James N. Elliott. The couple was married July 12, 1950 and separated December 21, 1950, this being a second marriage between the plaintiff and defendant.

One son born in their first marriage is 16 years old and the plaintiff seeks custody of the child, temporary alimony and maintenance during the pendency of the action, and attorney fees. She also seeks alimony and maintenance for herself and child.

Maxine Orr Richards by her next friend, Ethel Orr, her natural guardian, filed suit against Harold Lee Richards. The couple was married April 10, 1948 and separated in September 1949.

The plaintiff seeks temporary alimony, reasonable attorney fees, and restoration of her maiden name.

Wesner and Wesner are attorneys for the plaintiff in both suits.

OPS Charges 96 Revealed in 27 Cities Checked

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The government reported today that the nationwide drive to enforce beef price controls has turned up 175 violations in 47 cities.

The Office of Price Stabilization said the figures still are incomplete. Full reports were not available from the Denver and Seattle OPS regions.

An OPS official said the drive which began Tuesday with the agency's full enforcement staff in operation, is continuing. Several hundred slaughter houses are under check.

The official said the agency expected a decline today in the number of violations uncovered as the slaughtering houses themselves tightened their operations to comply with the law.

"OPS reported that in at least one city—Buffalo, N. Y.—an agent seeking to check on operations of a plant encountered violence. An official said the agent was "punched in the nose" and that court action would be taken as a result.

FOOT ROT and SORE MOUTH* IN CATTLE

Right now farmers are having quite a bit of trouble with the above two diseases. They are caused by the same organism "Actinomyces necrophorus."

FOOT ROT is first noticed when the animal begins to develop a lameness and favors a leg by not wanting to put weight upon it. Swelling may then be noticed above the claws or at the bulbs of the heel. We know by the experience of many farmers that it can be successfully treated by external applications with such remedies as Lysol Solution or by one of the so called patent remedies in some cases, but many cases require internal treatment with Sulfa or Penicillin.

I would certainly recommend Penicillin for several reasons—because it is easier for the farmer to administer and because only one dose of the 24 hour Penicillin is needed in even a bad case. With Sulfa you either have to get a bolus down, drench, or give it intravenously or intraperitoneally, and then repeat the dose in 24 hours.

Good sanitation is helpful in preventing the disease, such as draining wet places in the pasture and keeping the barn free of manure. In a rainy, wet season there does not seem to be any practical method of prevention.

Sore mouth* is generally detected when the animal starts slobbering a lot and jerks its mouth around like it was sore. An animal with sore mouth finds it difficult to eat and may get "off feed." Sometimes there is a discharge from the nostrils.

Since it is caused by the same organism that causes Foot Rot it should be treated with Penicillin for the above reasons.

Either of these diseases if allowed to go untreated may cause septicemia (a general blood poisoning) and kill the animal.

*Also called Infectious Stomatitis.

Stadium Fund To Benefit by All-Star Game

Bolivar, Mo., Girl Plays With the Two Girl Teams

Thursday is Stadium Day in Sedalia, but Thursday night will be Stadium Night when two All-Star teams of the American Girls Baseball league, will meet on the baseball diamond. Proceeds from the game other than the costs of the team expenses will be donated to the Jennie Jaynes Memorial Fund to be used in building recreational projects in conjunction with the new stadium.

Members of these two teams meeting here are the "cream of the crop" of the American Girls Baseball league. They are on tour of midwest and southern states to give baseball fans a "glimpse" of girls baseball and how it compares with big time baseball of men.

Miss Betty Wagoner

The exhibition games are most generally played in towns where they can help boost benefit funds such as the Stadium Day fund, here in Sedalia; the Ban Johnson movement in Brookfield, they are playing there Wednesday night; or the Press Youth Fund for better recreational facilities for kids at Evansville, Ind.

From Over the Nation

Members of the girls teams come from New York to California, with Missouri being represented by Miss Betty Wagoner of Bolivar. Miss Wagoner an athletic inclined young lady took to baseball and was quickly signed by the girls league. The past season, Miss Wagoner hit an astounding .347 clip. She is an outfielder.

Ten of the girls are members of the Blue Sox team from South Bend, Ind.; two from Peoria, Ill.; Redwings; one from the Rockford, Ill.; Peaches; three from the Kalamazoo, Michigan Lassies; three from the Belles of Battle Creek, Mich.; and one from the Comets of Kenosha, Wis.

They are divided as the Blues and Whites and provide some exciting, thrilling, and plenty of action for the fans. With the exception of the measured diamond, size of the baseball, the latter not to be confused with softball, the game is identical as that of the men's.

Army Team Expected To Score, Be Scored On in Opening Game

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 26—(AP)—There's a good chance that the Army football team—or what is left of it after the cribbing scandal swept away nearly all the 1950 regulars—will score and be scored on in its opening game next Saturday.

Coach Earl (Red) Blaik, who has spent a month picking up the pieces of his shattered squad, admits that his major concern is with a porous defense. But at the same time he gives unmistakable indications that he expects a set of talented sophomore backs to make a few touchdowns.

The all-sophomore 1951 backfield, Blaik says, "has more power and less speed than we have had before."

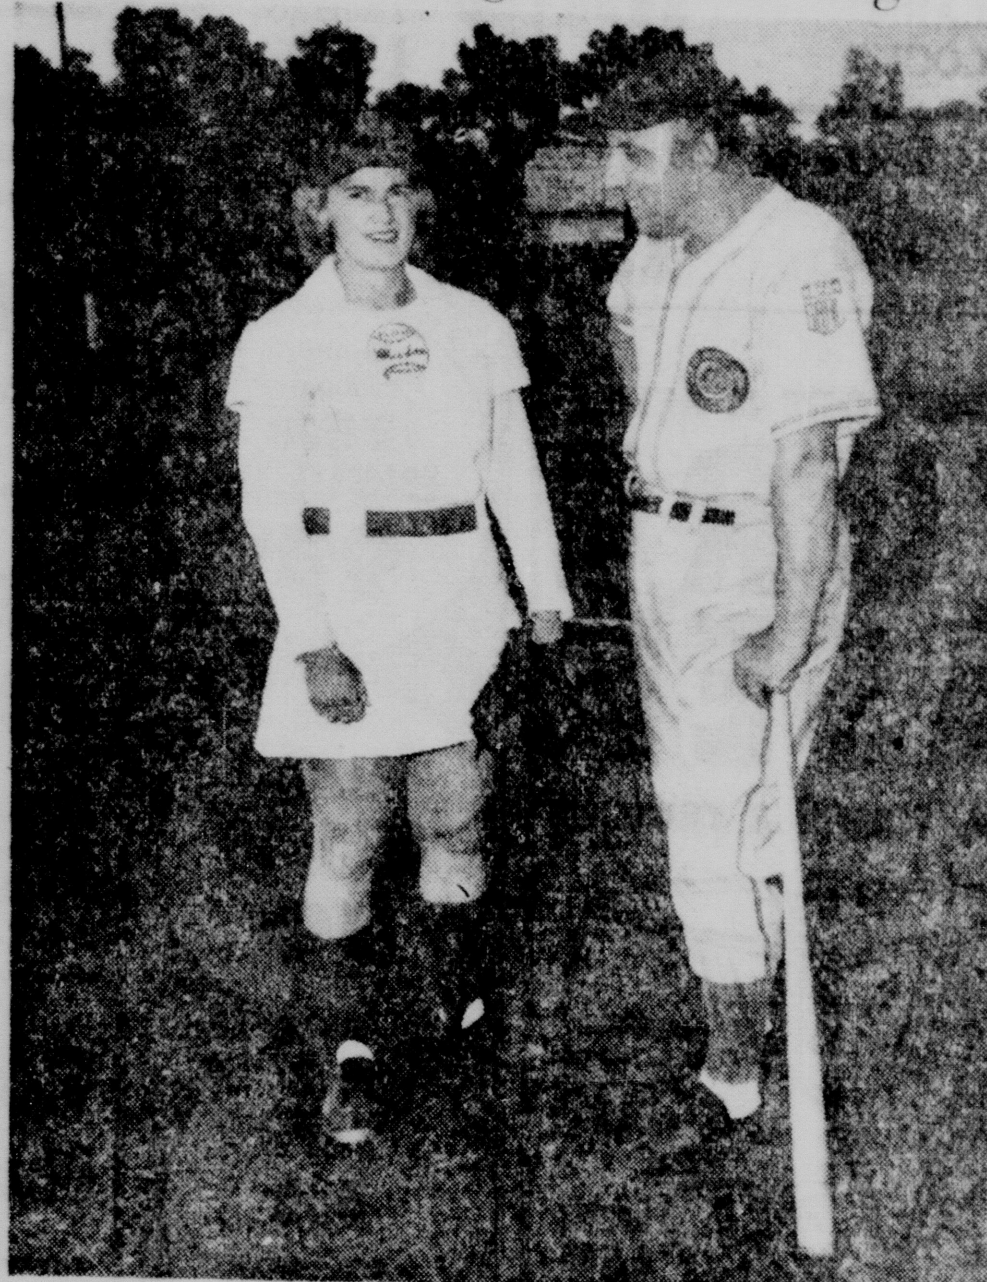

Dawson vs. Akins Tonight
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26—(AP)—Freddie Dawson, a lightweight contender from Chicago, will trade blows with Virgil Akins of St. Louis for 10 rounds or less tonight with TV fans holding a ringside seat.

Both are expected to be near the 137-pound figure.

Jean is an all-around player and can coach and manage girls' teams with considerable skill. She won 19 and lost seven games as a pitcher for the Sox. Manager Winch and wife will be seen at the park Thursday night when two All-Star girls' teams clash in a baseball tilt.

All Big 7 Teams Singing an Ache-Pain Tune on Injuries

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 26—(AP)—The season is still a baby but the ache-and-pain tune is full grown all around the Big Seven conference football camps.

Everybody's got a bunch of injuries as they prepare for Saturday's games. And in some spots accidents to the athletes really hurt.

Even at Oklahoma—Still figured the strongest club in the league—there are losses of note. The Sooners, who will open their season against William and Mary at Norman, have said goodbye to sophomore Billy Wayne Ballard, No. 2 to veteran Eddie Crowder.

Ballard suffered a shoulder separation in practice last week, has undergone surgery and is definitely counted out. Earlier veteran end Kay Keller suffered a similar injury. Oklahoma also says star halfback Merrill Green will miss the first two games because of injuries.

Elsewhere, here's how the reports read:

Kansas—Getting ready for Iowa State in a conference tussle at Lawrence: Star halfback Charlie Hoag still nursing groin injury. Wint Winter, No. 1 offensive center who was hurt on first play T.C.U. game replaced by Merlin Gish, regular defensive center. Offensive guard Jack Cole, hurt against T. C. U., replaced by another sophomore, Dick Rossman.

Nebraska—Getting ready for season opener with T.C.U. at Lincoln: No Nebraska football fan has been happy since the loss of Bobby Reynolds due to a shoulder injury. Even the strong showing of sophomores failed to dent the gloom. Reynolds worked out yesterday but he won't be in the lineup against T.C.U.

Colorado—Getting ready for Northwestern at Evanston: News not all bad. Regular quarterback Roger Williams suffering from bruised heel, but fullback Mervin Hodel and tackle Jack Jorgensen back at work after illness and injuries.

Kansas State—Getting ready for Iowa at Iowa City: Scrimmaged in spite of rain. Center Austin Gentry and several others left field early because of injuries, but three players hurt last Saturday in Cincinnati game back at work. Regular tackle Charles Farinella has bum leg and out four-six weeks.

Missouri—Getting ready for Oklahoma A & M at Columbia: Don Faurst attempting to fill tackle gap left by injury to Walker Hutchinson and Ted Follin. Faurst juggled lineup to strengthen defense that gave up five touchdowns to Fordham.

Iowa State—Maury Schnell, fullback and ace attacker, won't

St. Peter's Hi, Undeclared, to Meet Tigers

Visitors Are Light But Wiry Squad of Football Players

Size and depth have yet to handicap Jefferson City's St. Peter's "Saints" football team. Although the "Saints" have a thin 24-man squad with an average weight of about 145 pounds, they boast victories over the Missouri Military Academy Colonels and the Missouri School for the Deaf.

They will be seeking their third win of the current campaign against the Smith-Cotton Tigers at Liberty park Friday night. The Tigers will be doing likewise.

Four Lettermen Return
From last year's fine squad—one of the best in the history of their school—only four lettermen returned. This forced Gene Hart, the new head football coach at St. Peter's, to start almost from scratch. Hart rounded-out a hustling and surprising team in time for the opener.

"Are you kidding" was Coach Hart's answer to a request of the newspaper to send the starting lineup of his charges for both offensive and defensive teams (if two platoons are used). It took just the three-little-words for Hart to size up the picture of his team, after listing his offensive starters. Under the defensive column he wrote the three little words.

Rely on Passing Attack
The "Saints," as in the past several seasons, rely on a sharp passing attack to offset the lack of size and they generally do a pretty good job.

On the tossing end they have Jimmy Rackers, a letterman who gave the Tigers fits in the game at Jeff City last season. Their top receivers are supposedly ends George Hohenstret, Harry Janzen and Don Schneiders. They also have tricky combinations of back-to-back forwards.

In the game against M. S. D. a downpour grounded the aerial game and the Blue and White relied on the running of halfbacks Bill Tellman and Dave Eggers to pull them through. Both boys made repeated gains. Rackers is also a speed merchant. He took the opening kickoff Friday and raced 82 yards for what appeared to be a touchdown, but a clipping penalty nullified the run.

Use T Formation
Rackers, the quarterback, operates the team's T formation. Al Strutterman, fullback, is the top blocker on the club and is also a nifty ball carrier.

John Ngagi, 149-pound center, has been a spark on defense, despite a shoulder injury. Ngagi's line backing against M. S. D. possibly preserved the "Saints" victory.

Sacred Heart Ball Teams Split Wins With Houstonia Here

Sacred Heart high school softball teams split a double header with Houstonia on the Center park diamond here Tuesday night. The Sacred Heart girls won 8-3 while the boys lost 2-10.

Wildness on the part of the Houstonia girls' pitcher aided the Sacred Heart girls, although they found the hurler had an effective fast pitch when her control was working. Errors, especially a pair of costly miscues in one frame, kept Sacred Heart boys from finishing in front.

The next games for the local teams will be in the PBAA tournament at Houstonia Friday. The girls meet Hughesville at 1:30 p. m. and the boys, who drew a first round bye, meet the winner of the Smith-Hughesville game at 5 p. m.

also a standout in their first two contests.

The starting line will probably average around 148-pounds with guard Pete Brenneke being the heaviest. The starting backs will average around 143 pounds with Strutterman the heaviest, weighing 165 pounds.

Hart is assisted by Brother Li-guori, who is also the athletic director at St. Peter's.

Giants Close Gap on Bums, Trail by Game

Yanks Seem Sure Winner With 3 Games Over Tribe

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is the miracle about to come to pass? Will the given-up-for-dead New York Giants actually overhaul the runaway Brooklyn Dodgers?

An astonished baseball world was dazed by yesterday's sudden turn of events that left the Dodgers reeling and rocking.

Manager Charlie Dressen and his Brooklyn crew saw their once overpowering 13½ game bulge over the Giants melt to a single game last night when the relaxed Braves pummeled them in a nightmarish doubleheader, 6-3 and 14-2.

At the same time the relentless Giants were polishing off the Philadelphia Phils, 5-1.

Yanks Win, Indians Lose
The big doings in the National League pennant race far overshadowed the American League scramble that saw the front running New York Yankees move a step nearer the flag when both Cleveland and the Boston Red Sox were beaten.

The Chicago White Sox shoved the Indians three games behind the Yankees with a 4-2 triumph while Washington dropped the Red Sox five and a half games off the pace with a 2-0 victory.

The Dodgers still have five to go, two in Boston and three in Philadelphia. The Giants have three left, one in Philadelphia and two in Boston. Any combination of four Dodger wins and/or Giant defeats would clinch the flag for Brooklyn.

The Yankees, rained out of their scheduled game with the Philadelphia Athletics, now need to win only two of their remaining six to clinch the flag. They play the A's today and follow with five against the Red Sox. Cleveland has but two, both at home, against Detroit. The Red Sox have seven left, all on the road.

Other Games Played
Ted Gray pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 2-0 victory over the St. Louis Browns. He fanned 10. Catcher John Pramesa hit a grand slam homer in the bottom half of the 14th inning to give Kenny Raffensberger and the Cincinnati Reds a 7-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Ralph Kiner drove in two runs and scored one to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 6-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Dodgers were depressed, but there was no hint of surrender despite their double debacle. "Still in front," Reese said. "We're still in front. That's all I know," said Captain Pee Wee Reese.

"We got all the bad baseball out of our system," said Dressen. "The boys aren't panicky. There's nothing we can do but go out and win four of our remaining five."

The Giants still face a Herculean task and Manager Leo Durocher is well aware of it. He knows his charges cannot afford to lose another game. "They are certain to face Warren Spahn, ace Boston left-hander, in one of them. Spahn yesterday whipped the Dodgers for his 22nd victory."

Won't Predict Pennant
"I'd be foolish to predict a pennant," said Durocher. "Nobody realizes what a task we are confronted with better than I. We still have to have help to win it."

"But let me tell you this," he added. "This is the fightingest ball club I ever managed. Everybody else gave up on us but the players themselves. They don't know what it is to quit."

Sedalian Had Champion Dog

TIPTON—Everything went off as arranged and in a pleasing way to the many hundreds of persons attending the second annual Farmers' and Sportsmen's club fall show, Saturday and Sunday nights and Sunday afternoon at the Lem Thomas park.

The only unscheduled and unwanted part of the event was the rain which cut Sunday afternoon's program short and caused the moving that night of the show from the park to the agricultural building at the public school.

Saturday night's attendance was the largest ever to attend a program sponsored by the club and even with the rain interfering, a comfortable sum will be netted by the association.

H. E. Bremer, Sedalian, owned the grand champion con dog. With a greyhound, the Embury and Hecht Kennels, Tipton, won the championship, while George Petty, Versailles, had the top fox dog.

Grand championships on the bird dog went to Hobart Harrison, Ulrich, on a pointer, and Glen Salmon, Jefferson City, had the winner in the setter division.

Moberly Union Asks Mediation

MOBERLY, Mo., Sept. 26 (AP)—A union moved today to arrange for state mediation of a wage dispute between the city and 20 striking health and street department workers.

John F. Carmody, former city attorney, announced he had been retained by Local 1337 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Workers.

Carmody has proposed that the union and city council submit the dispute to the State Mediation Board. The board, he said, would have jurisdiction in a dispute involving the municipal utility function of government.

The move came after the city council notified the strikers today they will be replaced unless they return to work on or before Friday.

Street and Health Department members of the union struck last Wednesday after they and the city's 100 per cent unionized firemen denounced as inadequate a 5 per cent increase the council gave all municipal workers.

Members of the International Association of Firefighters is observing a no-strike pledge. They are limiting protest actions to an advertising campaign, circulation of petitions and an invitation for

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round Democratic Background Eisenhower Soft-Pedals

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 — I have seen General Eisenhower on both his trips to Europe this year, but in neither case have I talked to him about politics. Furthermore, I doubt whether 99 per cent of the political pundits who have come back from Paris as alleged interpreters of Ike's desire to run or not to run have really broached the subject to him either.

Only on one occasion—and that was several years ago—have I ever mentioned personal politics to General Eisenhower. I reminded him of an incident back in Kansas when he was a Democrat. Ike gave me a quick look, asked "Where did you hear about that?" and promptly dropped the subject. It was obvious that he did not want to discuss the days when he started life as a routin'-tootin' William Jennings Bryan Democrat and made his first speech at a Jackson day dinner.

Regardless of that early background, there is no question but that General Eisenhower wants to run as a Republican — for a very good reason. He feels that a new President, backed by a new party, could use a completely new broom. If elected as a Democrat, on the other hand, he would be so under obligation to President Truman personally and to those around him that he could not clean house. The cronies and mediocrities still would hang on.

That position, in the opinion of this observer, makes sense. Whoever is elected in 1952 should be obligated to no one except his conscience and the American people.

GOP's Greatest Mistake
Biggest mistake the Republicans have made in recent years is to take seriously the overconfidence of their Illinois national committeeman, Werner Schroeder, who once said: "The Republican can even win with a Chinaman." The GOP must face the fact that the majority of people in the USA today are registered Democrats and if a Republican President is to be elected a man must be nominated who can persuade Democrats to cross the party line.

Unlike the old-line politicians, a lot of people in this country consider their country more important than their party, but they must have a truly inspiring leader of the Eisenhower variety to make them cross over.

At any rate, Eisenhower's early record as a Democrat might turn out to be an asset. Real fact is that the Eisenhower family was among the few Democrats in rock-ribbed Republican Abilene, Kas., and Dwight's father had so little political pull that J. W. Howe, editor of the Abilene News and leading Democrat of the town, had to advise the youngster on how to get his West Point appointment.

What helped him was that Kansas Republicans at that time were bitterly split between the Square-Dealers, who followed Teddy Roosevelt, and the Stand-Patters, who followed Taft. Eisenhower, a bright and friendly youngster, took the advice of Editor Howe, went around to see both factions, and got the endorsement of each.

This was enough for GOP Sen. Joseph P. Bristow, who gave Ike the coveted West Point appointment.

Johnson Day Speech

Eisenhower has made thousands of speeches during his long career, but his first and perhaps only political speech was made at the age of 19 before the Jackson Day dinner in Abilene, Kas. George H. Hodges, a leading Democrat and later governor of Kansas, was the chief speaker, and Dwight was chosen as the one speaker to represent the younger Democrats. His title was: "The Student in Politics."

"There is an old proverb that says 'as the twig is bent the tree's inclined,'" began that earnest young Democrat who later decided he wanted to become a Republican. "A man after voting the straight ticket for several elections seldom changes from one side to the other."

"This fact is proved conclusively by the controversy now going on in the Republican party. One branch is called the Square-Dealers, Insurgents and Reformers. Although these men are loud in their denunciation of Cannon, Aldrich and a few others who are hide-bound party men, yet they refuse to join any other party and at election vote the Republican ticket."

"There is an inborn desire in all normal and healthy boys to help the smaller contestants in an even fight," Eisenhower continued. "A young man, in speaking of the political situation the other day, said: 'My father is a Republican and so was his father, but I am going to vote for the Democrats at the next election because I think they need me and the Republicans do not.'"

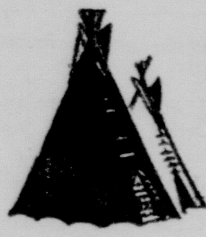

Boosts Democratic Principles
"But notwithstanding such reasoning as an admiration of fair play, the parental vote and the like, a man's first vote generally is cast correctly. He has arrived at an age of great self-confidence and has acquired a feeling of self-importance, for he figures that he will be about one-fifteenth of a millionth part of the vote of the United States."

"A leader of a political party who is a clean and fearless fighter," concluded young Eisenhower, "and possesses a winning manner is undoubtedly the means of attracting a large number of votes. The young man sees that the more honest and fearless leaders have become disgusted with the actions of the leaders and the party proper. He admires these men greatly, but he cannot help but think and remark that they are fighting for many of the same principles which the Democratic party advocated."

That was Dwight Eisenhower's first and last contribution to the Democratic party. According to the Abilene News:

"To say that he handled himself nicely would be putting it mildly. His speech was well-received." A few months later, Ike Eisenhower was in West Point, where no one is supposed to be either a Democrat or a Republican.

NO SURVIVORS

THE STORY: John Clayton, civilian scout, has warned Colonel Carrington of Fort Kearney of an impending Indian attack. Clayton is sent out to head off Captain Pefferman who is obviously heading into an ambush. Clayton arrives too late and as he tries to flee from the scene of the massacre, he runs into a party of Indians and is killed.

IX

THE phantom face would come and go, as lovely and luminous as a dawn star on a misty morning. At first it was just the face the kind of unreasonably beautiful face which haunts a dream. When it came to me out of the blackest of unconsciousness, it brought light. For a brief spell it would hover somewhere over me, seeming to offer guidance in a darkness which was endless. Then the interminable blackness would descend again.

Presently, these stygian nights became shorter. The star face shone with greater clarity, remained longer in its gentle orbit. I would remember that face and that fragrance so long as breath stirred in me, and then forever after. Yet, when I awoke, it was gone.

I was alive because I had shown great courage and a mighty power to hurt. Also because we were tahuna, cousins. My mind was still not functioning with normal clarity but I could gather that Geary's nonsense with Dull and me about my being a great chief had become accepted by these people. I knew that frequently in their own battles among tribes, if a warrior of the enemy showed extreme courage, being subsequently taken alive, he was carried off to the lodges of the conquerors, fettered and served in every way, in no sense a captive but an honored guest.

As I sat there, feeling of my wounds, trying to make some pattern of my predicament. I was aware of a figure standing just inside the tipi's entrance flap. It was a young man, I believe. I determined to approach him some days later from this blind side on the subject, feeling at the same time great shame at thus taking advantage of his savage fantasy. "By the dream is all truth known. Is it not so, my brother?" My question was sober.

"While I was walking in the evening I passed within the shadows of Wanagi Yata, the Place Where the Souls Gather. Do you believe this?"

"Even so my brother. I believe it." "Well then, as the shadows grew darkest over me, I knew a great dream."

"The place is holy."

"Even so," I replied. "And in this dream which was dreamed in this holy place, there came to me a face. It was more beautiful than any face." I waited, but he said nothing, only stirring uneasily. "The face did not speak but it smiled to me and it guided me out of the shadows, showing my way by its light." Again, I paused, and again he remained silent.

"This was the face of a woman," I announced, gambling on his Indian respect for the sanctity of another's vision. "And the face called to me, not with words but with a smile, saying I must follow it. Saying that as soon as Wakan Tanka returned my strength I must follow it. Even with her smile she said this."

I watched him closely, seeing he was deeply moved. For a long time he sat motionless, staring fixedly into the tipi fire.

"She lives." His tones were heavy. "It is she. It is the Star of the North. Your dream was a true dream, my brother."

"And she is Wiyan Wakan, a holy woman?"

"Of them all, the most holy." "Her age then? She must not be old."

"Very young. Little more than a child."

"And will you show me where this star shines, my brother?" I tried vainly, to keep the anxiety from my voice.

"It must be done," he said, gravely. "For you have dreamed it."

My heart leaped insanely within me. Gone now were all thoughts of Custer and Slatemeyer. That haunting dream face was real. It lived. And I was going to it. "She cannot be yours, Cetan Mani." For the first time he used my name in Sioux. Walking Hawk. "She will be mine," I challenged, recklessly. "Or I will be hers. For I cannot live without her."

"Then you will die, my brother," announced Crazy Horse, coming to his feet with easy grace. "For you cannot have her and live."

With that he left me, nor did I call out after him, but for an hour sat staring, motionless, into the fire.
